THE BOUNTY BOYS ARE HERE

Welcome to the crime infested boroughs of New York, where one wrong look at the right person can be your last. But the turtles sleep contentedly, for they've made Manhattan a safer place for all. Especially since they've sent Shredder to the local landfill. Or so they think.

While dreams of pepperoni pizzas dance through their heads, the turtles' worst nightmares blast into Earth's atmosphere. Two intergalactic bounty hunters have been attracted by the price that Shredder has placed on the half shell heroes' heads. Shredder's alive and looking for payback!

Although the turtles tossed Shredder into the metal jaws of a garbage truck, his titanium battle helmet protected his maniacal mind from being mauled. Upon awakening on a seabound garbage ship, Shredder vowed vengeance.

After floating back to land on a pile of non-biodegradable styrofoam cups, Shredder began training a new breed of Foot Soldier. One that is better trained in the lethal art of Taekwondo. And one that will make the ultimate sacrifice to defend his leader. But that was only the beginning. Shredder journeyed throughout the universe, via his Translocation Matrix Beam, recruiting the top bounty hunters. He chose two.

Tora is a ten foot, half ton blizzard beast who, in 2000 years, has never known defeat. Journeying from the distant ice planet of Traglodoon, he has come to Earth needing only one weapon, his devastating claws. His partner in cosmic crime is Shogun, an inhabitant of Sector Six in the Dead Star Zone, and the mastermind behind the Ultimate Galactic Sword.

But that's not all, folks. Shredder and his professional punishers have again captured April O'Neil and plan to use her as turtle bait. Fail to save this lovely journalist, and that's all she wrote!

Shredder's ten levels of terror, with a lethal leader at the end of each one, are the deadliest the turtles have ever had to face. Even if you survive the eight action riddled arcade arenas, you still must contend with the two new unbeatable bounty hunter stages. But the turtles stand ready to fight through this shell squashing mess.

For Splinter has taught these turtles to fight with the ferocity of a lion.

⚠ WARNING: DO NOT USE WITH FRONT OR REAR PROJECTION TV ⚠

Do not use a front or rear projection television with your Nintendo Entertainment System® (“NES”) and NES games. Your projection television screen may be permanently damaged if video games with stationary scenes or patterns are played on your projection television. Similar damage may occur if you place a video game on hold or pause. If you use your projection television with NES games, Nintendo will not be liable for any damage. This situation is not caused by a defect in the NES or NES games; other fixed or repetitive images may cause similar damage to a projection television. Please contact your TV manufacturer for further information.

HOW TO PARTY TILL YOU DROP!

The green gurus of grimefighting are hummin’ the blues. They’ve just learned of the evil event that awaits them. Shredder’s throwing a reunion party, with the bounty hunters as the guests of horror.

Your goal is to survive all ten levels of fatal festivities, save April and defeat Shredder in the Technodrome. But keep your amphibian eyes peeled. There are over 700 pain packing party monsters who’d like to use you as the pinata!

PICKING YOUR PARTY CRASHER (HOW TO BEGIN)

To begin, choose either the one or two turtle mode with the Select Button, then press the Start Button. Next, choose your turtle(s) of choice with the Control Pad. In the two turtle mode, use the Control Pad on both controllers to choose your turtles. When you’ve locked on, press the A Button. Once a turtle is selected, you cannot change turtles in the middle of the game. Now you’re ready to rock. Good luck, green gladiator!

HOW TO GET A LIFE

Your turtle has but only three lives to give to his city and to Splinter. You can prolong your life by eating all the rejuvenating pizzas or terminating as many villains as possible (for every 200 knockout punches, you’re given another life). Your energy will be drained each time you’re wounded by an enemy. When your energy meter reaches “null,” you’re void.

NOTE: In the two turtle mode, if you lose all three lives, you can be given a new lease on life by pressing the A Button on your controller (but only if the second turtle has a life to spare).

HOW TO CONTINUE

After your last turtle has been made into party mix, CONTINUE or END will appear. Choose one of the categories using your Select Button, then press the Start Button. If you’ve got the turtle guts, choose CONTINUE and you’ll be thrown back into the level where you were just wasted (you can perform this continue feat a maximum of three times per adventure).

NOTE: “Rest” is located in the upper left corner of the screen. This indicates the number of lives remaining.

THE MUTANT MOVIE STARS

No, the turtles' agent didn't force them to appear on a sappy game show. This is your Select Turtle game screen.

Leonardo

Leonardo's the head honcho. He enjoys giving splitting headaches with his Katana Blades.

Raphael

Raphael's weapon of choice is a bad attitude and dual Sai daggers.

Michaelangelo

When he's not cracking jokes, he's cracking heads with his mind numbing Nunchuckus.

Donatello

The brains of the outfit. Call him computer geek, and you'll be eating oak from his Bo.

COMPLIANCE WITH FCC REGULATIONS

This equipment generates and uses radio frequency energy and if not installed and used properly, that is, in strict accordance with the manufacturer's instructions, may cause interference to radio and television reception. It has been type tested and found to comply with the limits for a class B computing device in accordance with the specifications in Subpart J of Part 15 of FCC Rules, which are designed to provide reasonable protection against such interference in a residential installation. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient the receiving antenna
- Relocate the NES with respect to the receiver
- Move the NES away from the receiver
- Plus the NES into a different outlet so that computer and receiver are on different circuits.

If necessary, the user should consult the dealer or an experienced radio/television technician for additional suggestions. The user may find the following booklet prepared by the Federal Communications Commission helpful: How to Identify and Resolve Radio-TV Interference Problems. This booklet is available from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402. Stock No. 004-000-00345-4.
